WOOD IN FAVOR OF SIX MONTHS ENLISTMENTS

Chief of Staff of Our Army Will Ask Congress to Authorize Change in Law

WANTS 500,000 MEN READY FOR SERVICE

Thinks Thousands of Young Men Would Go In for the Short Term and Learn Much

(By Victor Elliott.)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, will propose to congress in the near future a plan which he believes will popularize this branch of the country's defense, and which will go a long way toward reinforcing the fighting strength of the American people.

The general proposes that six months' enlistments be authorized, instead of three year enlistment as now provided. By that means he hopes that many high school boys and graduates of colleges may be encouraged to enlist in the army by the promise of a short taste of military life, young men who would not care to abandon their business careers for a longer term of military service.

By this means, too, the general points out that youths of keen intellect should be able to ground themselves in military practices, in six months' hard work. Also, he believes that the benefits to be derived by the short term soldiers from the setting up drills and regular habits of life at a formative period would tend strongly toward their physical development.

Train Thousands.
At the same time the chief of staff figures out that the country will be training thousands of young men in the rudiments of military discipline, young men who could be depended upon for effective fighting in case of war. But this is only one step now proposed by the war department for the increased efficiency of the army.

If the plans of the present administration are approved by congress and endorsed by the people of the country, the fighting strength of the United States army, in times of peace will approximate 500,000 men.

These plans now contemplate the increase of the regular army to 100,000 men, the national guard of the various states to 140,000 men, and the creation of a reserve army of 260,000 men, all trained and equipped for active operations.

The reserve army is the wholly new part of this ambitious plan. And its formation is an idea original with General Wood. He proposes to recruit this great force from the men who are discharged from active service in the regular army.

To make this possible General Wood wants congress to increase the term of enlistment in the army from three years to ten years. Only three years of this term are, however, to be devoted to active work in the country's military, unless the soldiers at the period of discharge, are willing to re-enlist for regular army work.

Subject to Call.
During the remaining seven years, however it is the purpose of General Wood to keep the discharged soldiers under command of the government. They are to go about as they please and engage in such civil pursuits as they like. All this time, however, they are connected with the regular army, and can be called into action without the formality of a new enlistment.

As pointed out by General Wood, about 40,000 men are discharged from the regular army and from the militia every year. All of them have been trained in military work and are familiar with the details of army service. They have been educated at the expense of the people and should in the judgment of the chief of staff, be subject to call from the government at any time they may be needed.

By increasing the reserve army to 260,000 a year, a force of 500,000 men will, within a comparatively short time, be mustered into the new fighting force, and will give the United States another army more powerful from the point of number than all the regulars and the militia combined. It will more than double the defensive force of the country and will do it without great expense to the people.

It is, of course, a part of the plan of the war department to pay the reserve soldiers something. Their pay will be nominal, but will be sufficiently large to compensate the men for the time they devote to the mobilizations to take place from time to time.

TRUST LIGHTLY DEALT WITH; MAY FORM AGAIN

WILMINGTON, Del., June 21.—The United States circuit court for the district of Delaware today handed down a decision declaring the alleged Powder Trust, which is dominated by Frank E. L. Du Pont de Nemours company, is a combination in restraint of interstate commerce and decrees that the combination be dissolved.

The action against the Powder Trust was begun by the government in 1907 and directed against 43 corporations and individuals as defendants.

The suit as to the 15 defendants was dismissed because some of the concerns are out of existence or it is not shown that they were parties to the combination.

Easy to Combine

In the interlocutory decree, the court fixed October 15 as the date for hearing both sides as to the nature of the injunction to be granted and consider a plan for dissolving the combination "to the end that this court may ascertain and determine upon a plan or method for such dissolution but not deprive the defendants of an opportunity to recreate, out of the elements now composing said combination, a new condition which shall be honestly in harmony with and not repugnant to the law."

PHILADELPHIA READY TO STAGE FIGHT

Morris-Flynn Battle Will Probably Be Pulled Off in That City—No Decision

SIX-ROUND AFFAIR ONLY

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—If satisfactory arrangements can be made between Philadelphia promoters and Morris, the Morris-Flynn fight will go on in that city.

After telephoning Jim Flynn here saying he would leave Philadelphia probably tomorrow to meet the promoters, who have been angling for a battle since the governor of Oklahoma barred it in that state, should the fight go in Philadelphia, it will be a six-round affair, without a referee's decision.

Both Flynn and Morris are satisfied with this arrangement. Flynn refused to accept Ufer's offer of $1,500, posted to guarantee the fight to take place on July 4th. He is too good a sport for me to take the money," said Flynn.

CANANEA INDIGNANT AT DIAZ METHODS

CANANEA, Son., June 21.—(Special.)—The people of Cananea are indignant because the provisional governor has asked that some of the provisional officials of Cananea be replaced by others of his choice, or the choice of men in Cananea who desire to see others in office. They claim that if the country is under a new regime, the methods of the old Diaz party will not be tolerated. The governor of the state has no voice in the affairs of the city and the people seem to resent his interference with much feeling.

HOLD UP MEN GET REGISTERED MAIL SACK

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 21.—The north-bound Illinois Central passenger train was held up by three masked men on the outskirts of Memphis tonight and the mail clerks were forced to surrender a registered mail pouch.

The men escaped and the train proceeded after information of the hold-up was telephoned to this city. No attempt was made to rob the passengers.

TAFT IN NEW YORK

The arranging for the big celebration has meant a world of work to the citizens who gave their time to it, at the sacrifice of business and pleasure, and the success of the celebration will be the measure of the people's appreciation of their work.

HAVEMEYER OWNED STOCK IN BEET SUGAR COMPANIES, SAYS WARREN

HOUSE WANTS STATES TO CONTROL SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The wood pulp section of the Canadian reciprocity agreement as a violation of the agreement, was made in the house today by Representative Mann of Illinois.

He declared that the practical effect of the amendment was to say, "This section shall never take effect."

"It will be of no benefit to anyone," he said, "except those paper mills of the United States owning a temporary supply of spruce wood pulp forests and which they hope to convert into paper at high prices during the next few years, leaving the future to look out for itself. This is neither statesmanship nor patriotism."

CREDIT IS DUE GEN. LOMELIN NOW IN DOUBT

His Negotiations Restored Peace in Lower California; Story Is Denied

ROMERO NOW IN CANANEA AFTER OTHER SCHEDULES

(Special to The Review.)
CANANEA, Son., Mex., June 21.—It seems no more than just to state that the credit for the settlement of the Lower California equitable should be given to General J. Lomelin, as it was through his efforts that the affair was settled without any further trouble.

Ever since the general's arrival in Cananea he has been in communication with the authorities of Lower California and with the leaders between the Maderistas and socialists has now been settled on account of the excellent work done by the general. The general has been in communication with affairs there and has daily received lengthy telegrams in regard to the situation.

Knew News First
Last week he announced that the affair had come to a successful and agreeable close and the press of the states have the idea that Villan or some other officer in the Maderista army has done the work.

Another instance of an injustice to Lomelin is that in regard to the killing of "Red" Lopez. The general never mentioned Lopez's mother, as he handed her her son's blanket and hat. "Here's your son." In fact the general never saw the said blanket and hat. He was called upon by Mrs. Lopez, who asked him regarding her son, and he told her that he had been shot while trying to escape. That seemed to be the substance of the interview.

No Arrests Made
The report in the border press to the effect that Colonels Cambreros and Medina and Captain Romero had been courtmartialled on account of the killing of "Red" Lopez is untrue.

There have been no arrests in the case as far as known here, and as Cananea is the base of operations in the state, as well as Simla and Lower California, something regarding the matter should be known here. There have been no courtmartial or trials nor is it true that any of the officers mentioned are out on bond.

As a matter of fact, Captain Romero returned from a few days' stay in Bisbee on Tuesday afternoon.

Colonel Cambreros has not been disgraced, as the report goes, but instead he is soon to leave for Salavaria with his men and take charge of the affairs of that city as presidente, or mayor.

He is to leave Cananea in a few days for Salavaria.

ADMISSION IS CONTRADICTION OF BIG COMBINE

Witnesses of Sugar Trust Declared That No Stock in Rivals Was Held by Combine

WARREN HELD STOCK ON BEHALF OF HAVEMEYER

Went to Him and Consulted Concerning Consolidation of Michigan Companies Into One Concern

WASHINGTON, June 21.—That the American Sugar Refining company owns 37 per cent of the common stock and 55 per cent of the preferred stock of the Michigan Sugar Refining company, a beet sugar corporation, controlling six refineries in Michigan, was declared today by C. B. Warren, president and general counsel of the beet sugar concern, in his testimony before the house "Sugar Trust" committee inquiry.

The Michigan company was organized in 1906, according to Warren. Six independent companies were amalgamated with a capitalization of $9,000,000, issued, and an authorized capital of $12,000,000.

Got Large Blocks.
The preferred stock of the Michigan company, according to Warren, was acquired in large blocks of stocks in the independent companies before the formation of the company, he said, but the controlling interest was retained with Michigan investors, who still hold 63 per cent of the stock.

"Did you represent the American Sugar Refining company or Henry O. Havemeyer in seeking to bring about a consolidation of the independent beet sugar companies in Michigan in 1906," asked Chairman Hardwick.

Consulted Havemeyer.
"All these companies sought to have outside capital brought into Michigan for their benefit," said Warren. "They approached Havemeyer or his representatives in every instance except one and those interests paid for all the stock purchased."

"Did you advise Havemeyer in the negotiations?"
"Yes, I advised him as to the condition of the companies and matters of that kind."

"Did you ever advise him as to whether the efforts of the American Sugar Refining company might be involved in violations of the Sherman anti-trust law?"

"No, I never did anything for the American Sugar Refining company, outside of the state of Michigan, and had nothing to do except as described. I held stock in some of those companies for Havemeyer, and his associates."

A Contradiction.
The admission by the officers of the Michigan company that the Sugar Trust controlled 37 per cent of their stock, it was pointed out today by members of the committee, is in contradiction to statements made by representatives of that company before the ways and means committee of the house two years ago.

It was then maintained that the American company had no interest in Michigan beet sugar corporations. Warren admitted that in the early years of the Michigan sugar concern, Havemeyer, president of the American, occasionally wrote letters to express whether he thought the price of sugar was going up or down.

Big Increases Shown
Warren submitted figures to show the increase of the business of the Michigan companies since the formation of the corporation. In 1906, the first year of the new company, the plants used 325,923 tons of beets and manufactured 72,245,160 pounds of sugar. In 1910 they used 511,361 tons of beets and manufactured 124,511,545 pounds of sugar, nearly doubling the output without materially increasing the original capacity of the plants. The ability to get more beets and improved machinery were given as factors in this big increase.

Earlier in the day, Horace Havemeyer, son of the late sugar king, closed his testimony before the committee, continuing his description of the National Sugar Refining company.

DRIVER DONNELLY IS KILLED IN AUTO RACE

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—Walter Donnelly of Cincinnati, driving a One car at the automobile races at the State Fair park this afternoon, died this evening of injuries he received when his car ran into a fence.

Donnelly's skull was fractured when he was thrown against a post. Donnelly was driving in the 50-mile race and was making a turn at the three-quarter point of the fourth mile when the tire came off the rear right wheel, causing the machine to skid.

Donnelly is a well known driver, having taken part in races throughout the country.
